	Description and justification of the request	Updating English language requirements to include Duolingo as well as adding including the new intensive English language course sequence. New English language tests including Duolingo have become more prevalent since COVID. \n\nA new intensive English language course sequence is being initiated at the University. It was necessary to add language about it in admissions to the Graduate School	Adding the Duolingo English Tests as an accepted indicator of English Proficiency. After benchmarking with other SEC schools, it was determined we needed to include the Duolingo English Test as an accepted measurement for English language proficiency in order to remain competitive in the international student market. The English Language Committee reviewed and approved of these changes.
	Reviewer Comments	agriffin - Fri, 10 Feb 2023 19:12:42 GMT - Revised submitter information. agriffin - Fri, 10 Feb 2023 19:42:19 GMT - Deleted "submit" from the following statement: "All non-degree or visiting graduate student applicants, regardless of citizenship, whose first language is not English must (submit) meet the English Language Proficiency requirement by one of the three methods" The School is encouraged to review for accuracy. agriffin - Fri, 10 Feb 2023 19:45:58 GMT - Hyperlinked ELAC 5053 with the course title to assure the course title was listed correctly in the catalog copy under the Teaching Assistantship English Proficiency Requirement. agriffin - Fri, 10 Feb 2023 19:51:20 GMT - Hyperlinked ELAC 5033 with course title. School is encouraged to review for accuracy, as the title was listed differently than the title submitted into Course Inventory Management. Research Writing for Non-Native Speakers was not the course title. Thus, I removed this language. agriffin - Fri, 10 Feb 2023 19:56:47 GMT - Hyperlinked other courses for consistency with formatting. Completed other minor edits for cleaner copy. agriffin - Fri, 10 Feb 2023 19:58:14 GMT - ELAC 0603 noted in red box, has been submitted for approval.
